Remote Wilderness Fly Fishing Trips in Beautiful British Columbia

*[We are known for our great trout fishing here in Montana, but there is no where else I would want to go for great salmon fishing than in big and beautiful BC.]
D. Butler - Montana*

You only need a few hours to spare when it comes to experiencing fly fishing in British Columbia. Whether you are here on business and have only have 3 hours between meetings or if you have a weeks vacation, we've got a special trip for you!

"Rough it" in a remote wilderness cabin or stay in a Luxury 5 Star Wilderness Resort & Spa; travel to a high alpine lake for feisty rainbow trout or fly off to a coastal river for huge wild Pacific salmon and char, we have the transportation and destination for you!

[The stillness that wraps around you as you watch the helicopter fly off reinforces the fact you are truly out in the wilderness.]

- J. Leffke Virginia

Arriving by helicopter or float plane is the most amazing way for you to experience remote wilderness river and lake fly fishing in British Columbia. 170 river and lakes spanning hundreds of miles provide our guides with ample opportunity to provide you with the experience you want!

Regardless of your casting abilities or previous fly fishing knowledge, our Professional Angling Guides are dedicated to providing you with a wealth of fly fishing knowledge and wilderness experience only years of experience can provide. Your trip will be educational, safe, exciting, and memorable.

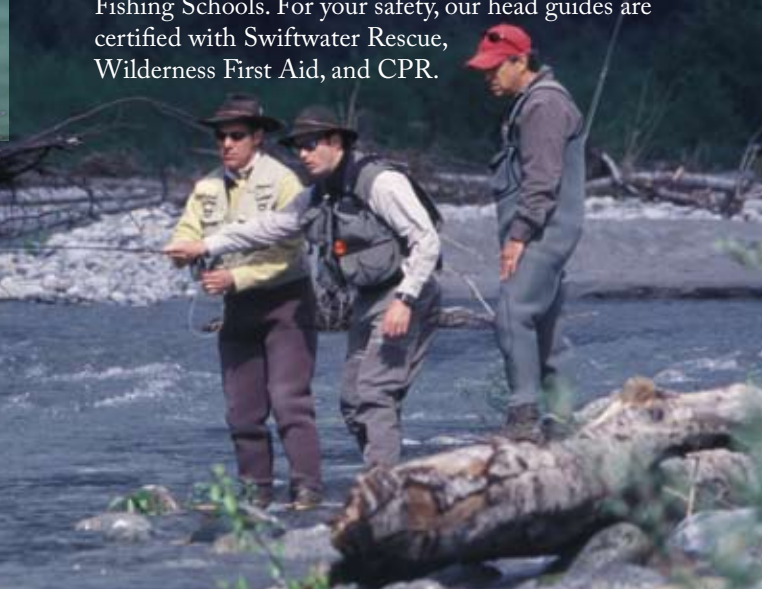

Learn from professional Federation of Fly Fishers Certified Fly Casting Instructors and Fish and Wildlife Biology Graduates in our Fly Casting Clinics and Fly Fishing Schools. For your safety, our head guides are certified with Swiftwater Rescue, Wilderness First Aid, and CPR.

For reliability and performance SAGE rods & reels as well as Simms waders & boots are provided as standard equipment for our guests. All terminal tackle and our favorite flies are supplied on all trips.

[We have fished Montana, Colorado and New Mexico, and have to say without a doubt the fishing was the best we have ever experienced.]

- L. & D. Richards -Texas

[Everything about your operation was first class. I look forward to coming back and using you again.] - P. Calamari New York
